

THE CITY OF NEW YORK
OFFICE OF THE MAYOR
NEW YORK, NY 10007

March 8, 2021

Dear Friends:

It is a great pleasure to join with 100 Women in Finance in celebrating its 20th anniversary at today's Virtual Closing Bell Ceremony.

New York's vibrancy and prosperity are dependent upon our thriving business communities, and the more inclusive they become, the more equitable and resilient our city will be. My administration is committed to building a stronger, more diverse economy where all our residents can participate, and in this mission, we are grateful for the tireless efforts of organizations like 100 Women in Finance. For two decades, this dedicated group has uplifted and empowered women in the finance industry across the nation and around the world, providing them with tools and support to help them achieve their professional goals. Through networking opportunities, educational programming, and philanthropy initiatives, 100WF members not only build their own careers, they also invest in the next generation of finance professionals and make an indelible impact in our city and far beyond. I applaud all those associated with this organization for forging a brighter, fairer, and more equitable tomorrow.

On behalf of the City of New York, I offer my best wishes for a wonderful event and continued success.

Sincerely,
