

Investing in the Next Generation

Gala proceeds benefit 100 Women in Finance (100WF) Investing in the Next Generation, which supports the organization's pre-career programs as well as local program partners who prepare and encourage pre-career women of all backgrounds to pursue pathways into the finance industry.

100WF programs, as well as the programs of organizations that 100WF supports, introduce the finance industry to students and help expand the pipeline of women entering sectors like finance, banking, technology and business higher education.

SPONSORED STUDENT MEMBERSHIP

We are proud to provide all presently enrolled college and university students with complimentary membership to 100 Women in Finance. This grants them access to 100WF's full range of benefits. As of January 2022, more than 1500 students had registered.

JumpStart

100 Women In Finance

Our first signature program, JumpStart is a multi-day virtual experience that provides college-age students with an introduction to the financial services industry and the opportunity to meet experienced professionals, recruiters, and fellow students from around the world.

GRANT PARTNERSHIPS

100WF provides grants to select organizations that directly deliver critical STEM and finance education. In 2022, 100WF will provide grants to 25+ organizations globally.

LaunchMe

100 Women In Finance

Creating lasting mentoring and advocacy relationships is a critical step to welcoming more young women from diverse backgrounds into the industry. 100WF's LaunchMe Program is designed to facilitate such introductions and build relationships between career-ready students and current industry leaders.
