100 Women in Finance Nigeria

100 Women in Finance makes its debut in Nigeria

100 Women in Finance (100WF) has been actively collaborating with Nigerian women in top executive positions in the finance industry to establish a local presence. As the percentage of Nigerian women in senior-level positions continues to grow, 100WF plans to offer programs centered around diversity of thought, raising visibility, and empowering women at each career stage. The Nigeria location marks the 32nd location for 100WF, the third in Africa.

100WF Events held in Nigeria

First Meeting

February 8th 2022

Cocktail Reception for CEO 100WF – Amanda Pullinger

A cocktail reception held for Amanda Pullinger, Chief Executive Officer of 100WF, at the Capital Club in Victoria Island, Lagos was the first of a series of events. Each gathering would be an opportunity to introduce the organisation to senior women and men in Nigeria and expand on its benefits.

Second Meeting

February 9th 2022

Lunch Roundtable with the CEO of Citibank Nigeria

100WF was invited to a lunch roundtable hosted by Ireti Samuel-Ogbu, Chief Executive Officer of Citibank Nigeria. Highlighting the growing percentage of senior women occupying high-level roles within the Nigerian finance industry and other emerging markets was the focus. Several immersive conversations centered around the need to promote and boost the visibility of these women in Nigerian financial institutions.

Third Meeting

February 10th 2022

Power Lunch at GAIA Africa

We held discussions on building a more diverse finance industry and developing the next generation of women leaders in finance through 100WF in Nigeria. The organisation would provide women in finance a platform to be visible, network, boost retention of early career women in the industry and close the existing gender gap across all levels of the finance industry.

Fourth Meeting

February 11th 2022

British Deputy High Commissioner's Breakfast hosts 100WF

The British Deputy High Commissioner in Lagos, Ben Llewellyn-Jones OBE, hosted 100WF at his residence in Ikoyi for a networking breakfast to conclude Amanda Pullinger's trip to Nigeria. The keynote address delivered by Mrs. Bola Adesola, Chairman of Ecobank Nigeria, was about the purpose and effectiveness of peer networks such as 100WF. This included Linking, Learning and Leaning, Lobbying, Lifting and Legacy.
